Missouri: New Law Modifies Definition of Video Service and Excludes Streaming Content

S.B. 872, signed by gov. 7/9/24; H.B. 2057, signed by gov. 7/12/24. New law modifies the definition of “video service” to include the provision of video programming by a “video service provider” provided through wireline facilities located in a public right-of-way without regard to the delivery technology. However, the legislation states that “video service” does not include any video programming accessed via a service that enables users to access content over the internet, including streaming content.
